

SMALL WORD, LARGE MEANING

Short words are often “long” in their meaning (e.g., f. no, why? yes, et al.). Must is such a word. Jesus said, “We must work the works of him that sent me” (John 9:4, emph. DM), indicating that which is necessary, obligatory, indispensable, required—all of which are in this small word. Let us trace a few of the many appearances of this word in the Bible.

1. Men must believe in God to approach Him and please Him: “He that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him” (Heb. 11:6b, emph. DM). Belief in God’s existence, including trust in His promises, is the beginning point of a relationship with Him. The entire context of Hebrews 11 defines faith in terms of obedient trust. Biblical faith in God and Christ is impossible to define or understand apart from obedience to God. Belief in His promises includes “He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved” (Mark 16:16) and every other promise He has made.
2. Men must be born again: “Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born anew” (John 3:7, emph. DM). These words summarize Jesus’ earlier statement: “Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except one be born of water and the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God!” (v. 5). Therefore, one must be born of water and the Spirit to enter the kingdom, which is equivalent to being saved and being added to the church. The Spirit’s part in the new birth is the begetting, accomplished through His Word (Luke 8:11; 1 Pet. 1:23). This spiritual seed results in the birth of water—accomplished when one is baptized (immersed) in water. Jesus’ own explanation of the new birth is Mark 16:16, quoted and cited above. Although men make many, Jesus made no exceptions.
3. Men must worship God in spirit and truth: “God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship in spirit and truth” (John 4:24, emph. DM). Spirit in Jesus’ statement is not a reference to the Holy Spirit, but to our human spirits or minds. Our minds and hearts must be sincerely involved in worship, rather than merely “going through the motions.” Truth refers to God’s Word (17:17). Our worship must be governed by the only source of religious authority in the Christian age—the New Testament. God does not accept whatever men may choose to call “worship,” but only what He has authorized by the Lord Jesus (Col. 1:17). All other “worship” is false, vain, or will worship (John 4:23; Mat. 15:9; Col. 2:23), and God rejects it, regardless of how sincerely offered.

4. Men must give an account of their lives: “For we must all be made manifest before the judgment-seat of Christ; that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he hath done, whether it be good or bad” (2 Cor. 5:10, emph. DM). God has made us with free wills, allowing us to choose obedience or disobedience to His will. But make no mistake; no one will avoid the Judgment, at which Jesus will judge us by His Word (John 12:48).
